CHINA MAR - SPECIAL

Berlin, To-day.

Fire broke out yesterday at 10.30 p.m. in the hall of the immense wireless exhibition at Berlin. The cause is not known, but an amazing fact is that within five minutes the flames, which shot up to a height of 50 metres, had not only enveloped the whole hall on the ground floor but had reached across the hall to the three halls which were also erected outside the building, so that all hope of saving the building was in vain.

Hall No. 4 was the site of the ultra-short wave transmitter and also the television broadcasting, so that the phenomenal progress done by research in these fields of investigation since the last radio exhibition thus received a severe blow, likely to hinder progress until the damage can be made good.

In the course of one hour the fourth Radio Exhibition was reduced to ashes, although a dezen fire brigades were on the spot almost instantancously, and every fire r ation in Bertinwas represented by helpers within a short space of time

KEEPING SLIM AND HEALTHY

Following Hollywood's Footsteps

> FRUIT MOST IMPORTANT IN DIET

More and more do we look to the film actresses to tell us how to keep slim and yet healthy. Perhaps it is because the camera is inclined to make is subject appear plumper rather than slimmer than she really is that the screen star has studied the question of diet and exercise so thoroughly. She must weigh even less than she appears to weigh.

But she must be physically strong as well as slight in figure, for her work calls for a tremendous amount of energy. So when Hollywood says she eats fruit because it is good for her, we are inclined to think it is good for us too. "What better digestive is there than a pineapple," a famous doctor asks. He gives the answer too-Nothing." Probably that is the reason why Hollywood utilises is in its slimming cures. Obesity is often the result of imperfect assimilation.

Grapes are a food medicine and a glass of their juice taken on retiring will prevent insomnia, while gooseberries remove impurities through the skin and beautify it. To mention the good points of other fruits there are the alkalisers: raspberries, blackberries and loganberries. They all rid the blood of toxins owing to the acid they contain. Tomatoes are excellent for the liver and internal economy. The ideal, I am told, is to take one pound once a day as a meal, without any accompaniment.

WASHING DOESKIN GLOVES

Most Difficult Of All To Clean

Doeskin gloves and handbags are among the most difficult articles to preserve in good condition for any length of time. Even if the soap is left in after washis a ling the gloves they seem to debeen velop hard patches. The most sucwater which is very soapy. CHANNEL BUOYS

WHAT would modern navigation do without the channel buoys — those floating markers that keep ships off the shoals? In a very real sense, the advertisements in this paper are channel buoys, placed for your protection -for the safeguarding of the family expenditures.

These advertisements are the signed statements of reputable firms who seek your patronage on the single basis of giving value for every dollar spent. They are honest statements, the only kind an advertiser can use and remain an advertiser.

People who get the most for their dollar in the market-places are those who keep an eye on the channel buoys. Day by day, they follow the advertisements to learn what and where to buy to the best advantage. Make this a habit. Study the advertisements, in the interest of shrewder buying.

BRIDGE NOTES

An Exchange Of Handicaps By Ely. Culbertson

A few weeks ago I was having in argument with P. Hal Sims of Deal New Jersey. Mr. Sims is a great Bridge expert, whose outstanding ability no one admires more than I but whose bidding theories-I do not think so much of. In fact, when he wins it is in spite of his bidding methods, not because of them. It is not unusual therefore, for Mr. Sims and me to argue when we happen to be together. The argument of which I spoke above was, however, of a somewhat unusual type. It did not concern the technique of bidding, but the technique of riving (or receiving) handicaps.

When a very good Bridge team plays against a very poor team, it ordinarily makes some effort to equalise the difference in playing ability. There are two old favourite methods. one, the weaker team is given the Ace of spades every deal; in the other, the weaker team is allowed to double its winning margin whenever it wins a rubper. This means that the strong team must win two rubbers to one or it will not break even.

It was and still is my contention that in giving the Ace of spades the stronger team is sacrificing much more than would by allowing the scores to be doubled. I stated this opinion, but Mr. Sims disagreed with me. The result was that we agreed to play one of the strangest matches of all timean exchange of handicaps. was allowed to hold the Ace of spades every deal; Mr. Sims was allowed to double his score every time he won a rubber-

A curious point about the visitors is that none of their sprinters or hurdlers is above medium build.

GIANT OF PARTY

THE biggest member of the L party is J. Johnson, a blond giant, who made some splendid heaves, with the shot, frequently beating 44 feet.

The best stylist, I thought, was John Schen, the Harvard captain, who will run the mile. He has the long, rhythmic stride which seems N. Bebbington (skip). effortless.

Altogether it she ild be a good meeting, providing there is no repetition of the many little "annoyances" spectators had to put up with at the A.A.A. championships There were the same wandering bands of officials and straying competitors all over the track last Saturday, distracting the attention of onlookers.

TSCHAIKOWSKY CONCERTO WELL RENDERED

Sitson Ma, the young Chinese violinist who gave a recital to a small but thoroughly appreciative audience at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden last night, has a most remarkable command of his instrument, technically and musically: remarkable, because he is "playing in an alien medium, but shows not the slightest sign, visible or audible, of it. He has a fine sense of touch, musical values and interpretation, all of which were amply displayed by his? sensitive playing last night.

Probably the most exacting offering, technically, on the programme was the Tschaikowsky "harmless cadenza so curiously and unusually placed in the first movement instead of the finale. BREAKING POINT!

When Brain And Nerves Cry Out For Help. Life in the Far East has many pleasures, but it also has its perils, especially at this time of the year. The long period of damp heat, and loss of vitality through excessive perspiration, exact a heavy toll upon the constitution even of the strongest, Overwork; and the business worries so common to this day and generation, make a further severe tax upon the strength all of which explains why so many people are feeling physically and mentally played out just now.

When you have sudden dizzy feelings, cannot "collect your thoughts," find out that your memory is no longer reliable, that you are unable to concentrate on your work, sleep badly, lack appetite, and need stimulants to keep you going; when after slight exertion you feel mentally and physically fagged out, any doctor will tell you that yours is a case bordering on neurasthenia or nervous breakdown, and that unless prompt and proper measures are taken to set matters right collapse will follow.

Your physician will also explain that the real cause of your condition is weak, watery, impoverished blood, and that therefore it is your duty to commence immediately a course of tonic treatment for your nerves and whole enfeebled system through the blood.

As a blood builder and nerve tonic there is one specific-world renowned under the name of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills-which has triump hantly passed through half a century of the severest tests, establishing the fact that it possesses remarkable power in replenishing red corposcles. iron and haemoglobin in the debilitated blood stream, thus rapidly restoring strength and well-being to the whole system.

So if you are weak, run-down, worn-out, or are suffering from any ailment due to blood poverty or nerve exhaustion, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and you surely will not be disappointed. Chemists everywhere

Sanitary Interpreter Sentenced

18 MONTH'S IMPRISONMENT

Sentence of 18 months' hard labour was passed this afternoon on an interpreter in the Sanitary Department Cheng Hing-U. when he appeared before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, the Puisne Judge, charged with having accepted a bribe from a pig-dealer named Ma Shing.

In passing sentence His Lordship said: "The jury, in my opinion, have rightly found you guilty. As the learned counsel for the Crown has already said, this strikes at the very roots of Government."

The case for the Crown was presented by Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, Assistant Crown Solicitor, and Mr. H. C. Macnamara instructed by Mr. M. K. Lo. was for the defence.

"Can do, missy." said the tailor, quietly. He squatted gracefully, folded the dress into the cloth again, and tied it tenderly, careful; to crush nothing. Then he rose and stood waiting upon his face some agony of supplication. His whole soul rose in this silent supplication, so that it was written upon his quiet, high-cheeked face, upon his close-set lips. Sweat broke out upon him afresh. Even Mrs. Lowe could feel dimly that imploring soul. She paused in her rocking and looked up.

"What is it?" she asked, sharply- "What more thing?" The tailor wetted his lips again and spoke in a faint voice. "Missy. can you give me little money-one

Two Manatees From West Indies

London, To-day Recent additions to the London Zoological Gardens, which aroused much public interest following the Okapi gift of H. M. the King of the Belgians to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, which arrived at the end of July, are two manatees from the West Indies, for which a specially designed tank like a large luxurious bath has been provided, and, four vampire bats, also from the West Indies.

The bats are a gift of a corresponding member of the Royal Zoological Society, who caught them in Trinidad and trained them to lap up defibrinated blood from a wineglass.—British Wireless Service.
